

Sunset Ridge Elementary Speak Up Project Summary

For our Youth4Youth program at Sunset Ridge, our students formed a group to spread the message of speaking up to stand up against bullying. The students met on an ongoing basis and created various activities that our younger students participated in including reading books about bullying prevention, creating murals with the students, playing games, and other participating in other activities that supported the message of standing up and speaking out for others. Students said they “learned to not bully”, “learned to speak up for others”, and “learned to help others”. Our student’s felt that a hands on approach where they worked with children directly would leave a lasting impact on the students they worked with.

2017-2018 Implementation Plan:

In the 2017-2018 school year, Sunset Ridge plans to continue the group and deliver activity time to even more classrooms. The group plans to develop an annual spirit week to celebrate the message and embed it into our school and community culture.
